I. FOUNDATION

OVERVIEW

The Foundation component of the school counseling program serves as solid ground upon which the rest of the program is built. The foundation answers the “what” of the program and sets the stage for a strong school counseling program. It establishes school counseling as an integral component of the academic mission of the educational system. The ASCA National Model calls for three main areas of the Foundation of the program: a) Program Focus; b) Student Competencies; and c) Professional Competencies.

A. PROGRAM FOCUS

The Program Focus includes the beliefs and benefits of the school counseling program, the vision for all students, a mission statement aligned with the district mission, and program goals, which define how the mission will be carried out.

- 1.1 The Cabot Public Schools School Counseling Program belief and mission statements define the purpose and the guiding principles for managing and implementing a school counseling and support system for all students.

Mission Statement

The vision of the Cabot School District Counseling Program is for all students to develop academically, socially, and emotionally to become resilient, contributing members of a global society.

- 1.2 School counseling program goals and objectives will be reviewed and modified each year to establish the priorities and direction for school counseling and support services provided to students in grades in K-12.

Program goals guide the delivery of the program and the development of school counseling core curriculum, targeted and intensive interventions, and closing the gap activities. Goal statements include desirable outcomes for students, are based on data, and focus on opportunity, attainment, and achievement gaps. Program goals are aligned with the Cabot Public Schools Mission and Vision and the district goals and objectives.

Districtwide Goal

By May 2022, the percentage of CPS students considered academically “In Need of Support” will decrease by 7% from 37.6% (2022 students) to 30.6% (1645 students) compared to May 2021.

Supporting evidence/data: At the end of the 2021 school year, 2022 (37.6%) students were identified as academically “In Need of Support” on the Projected Proficiency Summary Report. Through intentional interventions, the percentage of students identified as academically “In Need of Support” will decrease by 7% from 2022 students to 1645 students by May 2022.

Reflection from 2020-2021 Goals

As a district, different goals were created for different levels. Baseline data was not necessarily considered or documented when forming goals. Different data was considered, SMART goals were not used across the district, and different needs were addressed. Growth in effective use of data is a priority going forward.

B. STUDENT COMPETENCIES

- 1.3 Three broad domains of student development will guide school counseling program: Academic, College/Career, and Social/Emotional.

Student standards and competencies guide the development of the program for all students and align with local, state, and national initiatives. In Cabot Public Schools, three broad domains will guide school counseling and support services' activities: academic, college/career, and social/emotional. These domains of student development will include a list of what all students should know, understand, and be able to do as a result of participating in a school counseling program. Student competency attainment assures equitable access to school counseling services for all students.

The following documents (See Appendix) will guide and influence the selection of competencies:

- ASCA Mindsets and Behaviors for Student Success
- Eight Components of College and Career Readiness \(NOSCA\)
- Teaching Adolescents to Become Learners \(University of Chicago\)

C. PROFESSIONAL COMPETENCIES

- 1.4 ASCA's National Model, professional competencies, ASCA Mindsets and Behaviors, ethical standards, position statements, and Arkansas Act 190 of 2019 will guide the school counselors' program, practice and professionalism within Cabot Public Schools.

Professional competencies ensure school counselors are equipped to meet the demands and rigor of the professional practice. Professional competencies outline the attitudes, knowledge, and skills that guide and advise the daily practice of the school counselor. The following foundational documents serve to guide expectations for the school counseling program and the practice and professionalism of the school counselor.

ASCA School Counselor Competencies serve as a guide for school counselor self-evaluation and formulation of professional development plans.

ASCA Ethical Standards for School Counselors specify the principles of ethical behavior and serve as standards of accepted practice, guiding the school counselor's decision-making process to protect both the students and school counselor.

The Arkansas ACT 190 of 2019 reflects the state legislature requirements for districts' comprehensive school counseling program.

ASCA Position Statements guide and support the recommended role of the school counselor and are approved each year by the Governing Board of the American School Counseling Association.

ASCA National Model Executive Summary is the abbreviated version of the defining publication for the school counseling profession.

II. DELIVERY SYSTEM

OVERVIEW

The delivery model for program activities is focused on services and strategies provided to students. These include interactions with students and others as they seek to provide equity and access to support achievement for all students. Arkansas Act 190 of 2019 requires school counselors spend 90% of their time in the delivery system providing both direct and indirect students services.

Direct Services include interactions with students through:

- Core Curriculum (structured lessons designed to ensure students gain agreed upon competencies);
- Individual Students Planning (activities to ensure students develop future goals and plans); and
- Responsive Services (interventions designed to meet students' immediate data driven needs).

Indirect Services include interactions with others within/outside school settings on behalf of students through:

- Consultation/Collaboration
- Referrals

MULTI-TIERED, MULTI-DOMAIN SYSTEM OF SUPPORT (MTMDSS)

Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) is a comprehensive framework that addresses the academic and behavioral needs of all students within the educational system. Research shows that schools benefit from having available multiple evidence-based interventions of varying intensity to meet the range of behavioral, social-emotional, and academic needs of all students. While MTSS is focused on two areas (academic and behavioral), school counselors focus on three domains: 1) academic, 2) college/career, and 3) social/emotional. To align with the work of the school counselor and other support personnel, a Multi-Tiered, Multi-Domain System of Supports (MTMDSS) can be utilized.

MTMDSS is a framework for organizing a continuum of core instruction and interventions to meet students' needs with the goals of: 1) Ensuring all students receive developmentally appropriate instruction; 2) Maximizing student achievement; and 3) Increasing the social and behavioral competencies of students. The MTMDSS Model organizes school instruction and intervention services into three levels, or Tiers. As stakeholders in the development of students' academic, college/career, and social/emotional development, school counselors and other support personnel (school psychologists, social workers, etc.) provide components of and support in the MTMDSS process.

TIER 1: CORE [UNIVERSAL] PROGRAM FOR ALL STUDENTS (100%)

The core program consists of the delivery of services that all students receive (core curriculum, individual student planning, and school-wide events). District core curriculum (e.g. School Counseling Core Curriculum) is standards- and competency-based, developmental in nature, preventative and proactive in design, and comprehensive in scope. Individual Student Planning includes college and career readiness and 5 year planning. District/school-wide activities for all students and families such as national awareness campaigns and parent education support this work.

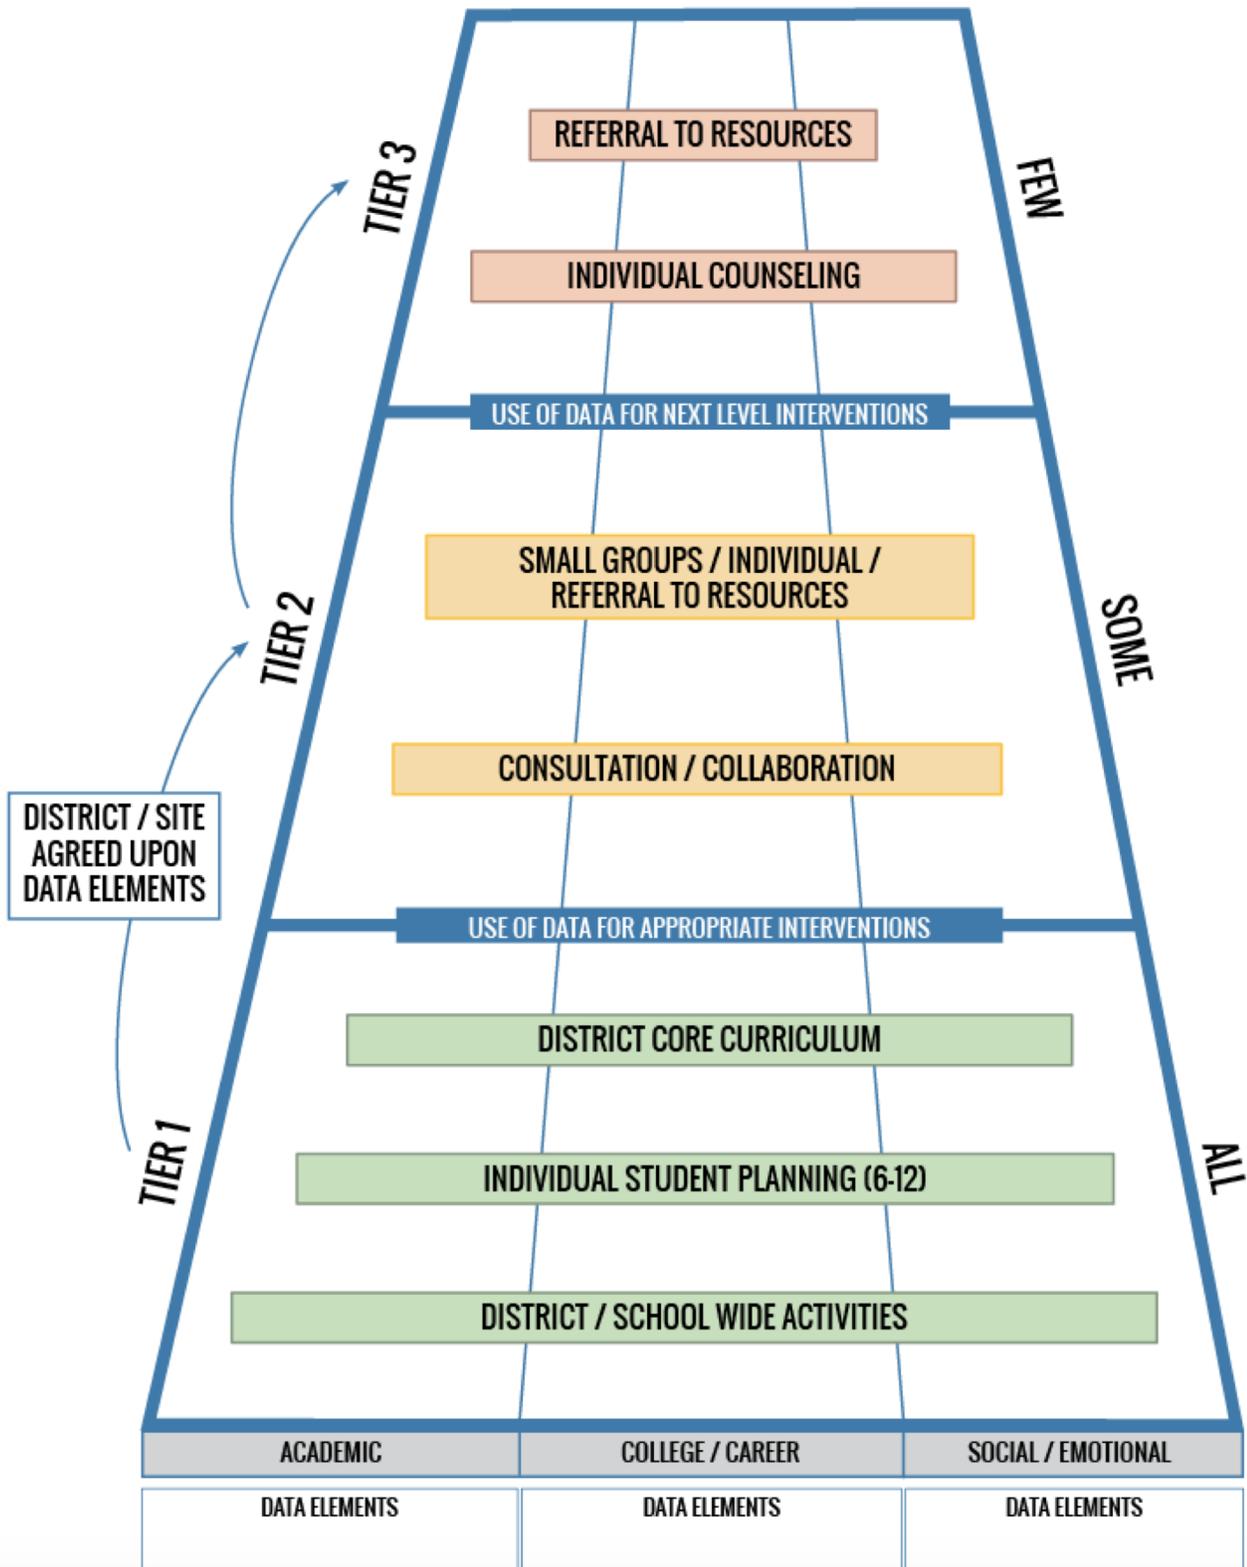

TIER 2: TARGETED INTERVENTIONS FOR SOME STUDENTS (20%)

Targeted data driven interventions (small group counseling/instruction, referral to interventions on campus, etc.) are designed for identified students. These include, for example, attendance, behavior, work skills and study habits (report card marks), course failure, credit deficiency, and/or equity and access issues. Tier 2 includes short term progress monitoring and collaboration among teachers, parents/guardians, and the school counselor until improvement and/or referral to appropriate services can be found and implemented. Tier 2 activities are designed for students who: 1) exhibit barriers to learning; 2) are struggling to achieve academic success; and/or 3) who are identified as deserving of instruction and/or supports in addition to Tier 1 curriculum activities (foster youth, dual language learners, etc.).

TIER 3: INTENSIVE INTERVENTIONS FOR A FEW STUDENTS (5-10%)

Individualized student interventions (e.g. 1:1 counseling) are designed for students to address additional needs, including emergency and crisis response events. These include short-term solution focused counseling to address life change events (divorce, death, imprisonment of a parent, etc.) and unresolved challenges unaffected within Tier 1 and 2. Tier 3 intensive interventions are provided on a limited basis and, if unresolved, lead to referrals to outside services. This includes short-term consultation and collaboration among teachers, parents/guardians, and the school counselor until the concern or crisis is resolved and/or referral to appropriate responsive services can be identified and implemented.

MULTI-TIERED, MULTI-DOMAIN SYSTEM OF SUPPORT

B. INDIVIDUAL STUDENT PLANNING

- 2.3 School counselors will help students monitor and manage their own learning, as well as to establish personal goals and future plans.

Individual Planning – Developing a Five-Year Plan

Individual student planning consists of ongoing systematic activities provided by school counselors designed to assist students in establishing personal goals and developing future plans, such as individual learning plans and graduation plans. Individual planning is implemented through appraisal and advisement.

- 2.4 School counselors will meet with all students (grades 7-12) to develop a five-year graduation plan beginning in seventh grade, which includes appropriate coursework for successful graduation from high school and transition to postsecondary institutions or to work.

Junior High School Counselors will work with all 8th grade students to review 5-year graduation plans prior to high school course enrollment.

High School Counselors will work with all students in grades 9-12 to review and/or revise their 5-year graduation plan to reflect high school, college, career technical, and career goals.

School counselors will meet with ALL students (during 7-12th grade(s)) to conduct annual conferences regarding their 5-year academic and post-secondary plan. Parents/guardians may request to attend the planning conferences to discuss:

- Coursework and academic progress needed for satisfactory completion of junior high or high school
- Colleges, universities, community college, private college, and military admission requirements
- Career goals and career and technical education (CTE) opportunities
- Regional occupational programs and other alternatives available to students
- Attendance & disciplinary records

A standardized electronic version of the Student Success Plan will be developed so that plans can follow students from one grade level to the next for annual review and modification. [xello.world/en/].

School counselors will review each student's transcript and academic plan once each year (typically during registration) to validate appropriate course placement.

Individual Planning for Students At Risk

2.5 School counselors will conduct conferences with each student and, if reasonable, the parents or guardians of students at risk.

School counselors in grades 7-12 will conduct conferences with each student and, if reasonable, their parents/guardians who are at risk. These meetings should be documented. The following topics can help guide the conversation:

- Programs, courses, grades, college/career-readiness, and options available for students needed for satisfactory completion of junior high school
- Cumulative records and transcripts of the student
- Performance on standardized and diagnostic assessments of the student
- Remediation strategies, middle school and high school courses, and alternative education options available to the student
- Information on diverse postsecondary education options including trade schools, community college, 4-year universities, and the military
- Eligibility requirements, including coursework and test requirements, and the progress of the pupil toward satisfaction of those requirements for admission to four-year institutions of postsecondary education, including the colleges, universities, and trade schools.
- The availability of financial aid for postsecondary education
- Behavioral choices, consequences, interventions/strategies
- Referrals to school-site and outside community resources

School Counselors in (K-12) will schedule conferences and meet as needed with students, parents, and teachers regarding, but not limited to:

- Attendance
- Behavior
- Academic
- Social/Emotional
- Crisis Intervention

C. RESPONSIVE SERVICES / TIER 2

Targeted Interventions

2.6 Targeted data-driven interventions (intentional guidance) will be provided to students who need additional support to address academic achievement, college/career readiness, or social/emotional concerns.

The Responsive Services component of the Cabot Public Schools Counseling Program consists of activities to meet the data driven and immediate needs and concerns of students in academic achievement, college/career readiness, and social/emotional issues. This component is initiated through data mining (see data-driven interventions), student self-referral, teachers, parents/guardians, or others. While school counselors have special training and skills to respond to these needs and concerns, the cooperation and support of the entire faculty and staff are necessary for the successful implementation of this component. Responsive services are identified through surveying student needs and delivered through strategies including: consultation, individual and group counseling, crisis counseling, referrals, and peer mediation/conflict resolution.

2.7 School counselors will respond to the academic and social/emotional needs of students by utilizing site and district resources, as well as refer to community resources to address concerns that range from early intervention to crisis response.

Targeted Intervention Plans are designed to provide more intensive services to individuals or groups of students who need academic, college/career, or social/emotional support. School counselors are part of a team that collaborates to address data driven elements in alignment with district priorities and unique site considerations (i.e. staffing, demographics, resources, priorities) and incorporate research-based approaches, program management, and accountability measures. Each site team will develop and implement targeted intervention plans as needed.

2.8 Social/emotional counseling will be provided for the purpose of promoting the development of student academic abilities, careers and vocations, and social/emotional skills.

Individual/Small Group Counseling: Short-term counseling is provided in small groups or on an individual basis for students expressing academic challenges, difficulties dealing with relationships, personal concerns, or normal developmental tasks. Counseling assists students in identifying problems, causes, alternatives, and possible consequences so that appropriate action is taken. Such counseling is normally short-term and solution focused in nature. School counselors do not provide therapy. When necessary, referral sources are used to connect students/families to appropriate resources.

Crisis Response Counseling: Crisis counseling provides prevention, intervention, and follow-up. When a crisis occurs, the site principal (in collaboration with the school counseling team) decides whether or not the site crisis intervention team or the district crisis team will handle the situation. One or both are called into action. Counseling and support are provided to students and families facing emergency situations. When necessary, appropriate outside referral sources are utilized.

Peer Mediation/Conflict Resolution: The techniques of peer mediation, restorative justice practices and conflict resolution are used to help students learn how to make changes in the way they react to (get along with) others. In peer mediation, students are trained in a system to use with fellow students who are having trouble getting along with each other, problem solve and find solutions.

D. CONSULTATION/COLLABORATION

2.9 School counselors and support staff will consult with teachers, staff members, and parents/guardians regularly in order to provide information, to support the school community, and to receive feedback on the emerging needs of students.

Consultation with Teachers, Staff, and Families

School counselors consult with parents/guardians, teachers, other educators, and community agencies regularly in order to provide information and strategies to address concerns in academic, college/career, and social/emotional needs of students. School counselors serve as student advocates to support student achievement, equity, access and success.

School counselors consult with:

- Administrative Team
- Site School Counseling Team Members
- Teachers
- Parents/Families
- School Psychologist
- Special Ed Folder Holders
- Nursing Staff
- Classified Employees
- Athletic Coaches
- Program Coordinator(s) (i.e. AP, ELL, SPED, Etc.)
- School Resource Officer
- College Access Partners
- Community Agencies
- Child Welfare and Attendance
- School Counseling Interns
- Instructional Coaches/Interventionists

2.10 School counselors will participate in curriculum committees, community committees, and advisory boards to collaborate on student issues, support programs in the school and community, and gain support for the school counseling program.

Collaboration Through Committee Participation

School counselors will have the opportunity to collaborate in a variety of ways to support the school counseling program. Through teaming and partnering they work with educators, parents, and the community to improve resource sharing, provide joint presentations, or form partnerships with a specific focus or agenda. Serving on district committees, school counselors advocate for all students and work to remove barriers to learning, to improve programs, policies and practices supporting access and equity. Selection of committee topics may vary per site.

2.11 School counselors will collaborate with local businesses, industries, and agencies in order to take advantage of community resources, referral agencies, field trip sites, employment opportunities, and local labor market information.

Referrals to Outside Agencies

School counselors connect students and families with referral sources, utilizing district agreed upon services with outside agencies to support academic, college/career, or social/emotional needs. Examples include dealing with crises such as suicide ideation, violence, abuse, and terminal illness. These referral sources may include mental health agencies, employment and training programs, juvenile services, and other social and community services.

III. MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

OVERVIEW

Planning and managing the school counseling program is essential to ensure efficiency and effectiveness. School counselors collaborate with their level specific colleagues throughout the district to ensure agreed-upon “franchised” services (core curriculum and interventions) are calendared and provided district wide. School counselors use data to set local priorities and to drive decision-making on the use of time. They also collaborate with school counselors at different levels to plan and support appropriate articulation activities to support a smooth school transition process for students. Planning and meeting with colleagues is essential to ensuring the programs are delivered systemically throughout the district.

3.1 As members of the school staff, school counselors will assume planning and management responsibilities in the school counseling program.

3.2 School counselors and support staff will meet regularly as Professional Learning Communities (PLCs) to review student data and identify, prioritize, and target student needs.

A. District Counselor Meetings (PLCs)

It is recommended that school counselors utilize the following guidelines for professional development:

- Monthly PLC time should be used to encourage best practices, highlight successes, challenge status quos, and address challenges.

The Director of Counseling will organize and set agendas. Suggested agendas might include the following:

1. Information and Announcements (e.g., discussion about new school or district policies, practices, or procedures, such as a new registration process or new report cards)
2. Specific Student Concerns (e.g., individual student issues; questions about handling certain student concerns, such as soliciting suggestions for a mentor of a new foster student; students with high level of risk, such as student who is suicidal)
3. Program Management (e.g., climate survey data analysis, finalizing action plans, scheduling groups)
4. Counselor Concerns (e.g., how to work with a teacher who appears to be stressed, or how to talk with an angry parent.)

B. USE OF DATA / DATA TEAMS

A comprehensive school counseling program is data-driven. School counselors must be able to show that each activity implemented as part of the school counseling program was developed from a careful analysis of student needs, achievement, and related data. School counselors and support staff will analyze student data with administration during PLCs to drive priorities for school counseling services. Based on student data, school counselors and support staff will develop a plan of action to meet student needs. Below are sample types of data to consider [at the elementary level] to identify, prioritize, and target student needs and measure outcomes. Also below is sample of different types of data (K-12) as categorized in three areas: standards and competencies (perception), achievement related, and achievement.

3.3 School counseling services will engage and encourage parent/guardian participation concerning academic, career, and social/emotional decision-making for all students grades K-12.

C. PLANNING DOCUMENTS AND TOOLS

3.4 School counselors and support staff will collaborate with school administration and site leadership teams in order to ensure effective implementation of school counseling services.

Annual Agreement

The Annual Agreement is a tool used to outline the organization and focus of the school counseling program. At the beginning of the school year, the school counselor and administrator discuss the alignment of the school counseling program goals alongside the goals of the school, and create a mutual understanding of the school counselor’s specific responsibilities, use of time, caseload, and areas for professional development.

3.5 School counseling departments and administrators will collaborate to determine hours of operation which allow adequate opportunities for students and working parents to access counseling services both within and outside of the regular school day.

Hours of Operation

Department hours will be determined by contract as well as hours of school and District hours of operation. Schools with College and Career Centers should make every attempt to consider hours of operation that benefit students and family needs. When completing the ASCA Annual Agreement with supervisors, school counselors are encouraged to consult their administrators and discuss the possibility of arranging flexible arrival times, lunchtimes, and afterschool times, to ensure student needs are met (See Hatch, p. 203).

3.6 School counselors and support staff will provide information and materials to staff about the school counseling program and issues that impact teaching and learning.

3.7 The assignment of students to school counselors will be determined by the school counseling department and administration at each school site based on the unique programmatic considerations of the school and student population.

3.8 Student-to-school counselor ratios will follow state regulations to ensure counselors equitably address the needs of all students.

Arkansas state law requires one counselor per 450 students, district wide.

School Counselor Assignments (Caseload Options)

School counselor caseloads (5-12) may be assigned according to:

- Grade Level
- Alpha Listing

3.9 School Counselor’s use of time will be determined in mutual agreement with site administrator in accordance with the Cabot Public Schools Counseling program goals.

Use of Time

The following percentages serve as a guide when determining time spent in each of the three areas of the delivery system (ASCA National Model, 2nd Edition). The program percentages are suggested; the individual time a certain counselor spends in each component of the delivery system may vary depending on student needs and staffing considerations. The recommendations below are provided to prioritize program and counselor activities. It is recommended that sites develop a calendar to be shared with all stakeholders that includes an overview of counseling and guidance support activities.

Calendars

School counselors will develop and publish a master calendar. Each spring, the school counseling team is encouraged to spend an entire day designing next year's calendar using the guideline provided in the Appendix. School counselors are encouraged to post calendars on websites and in the office to assist in communication with families, students and staff.

3.10 School counselors, teachers, administrators, and support staff will be provided professional development opportunities based on individual needs, site needs, and resources available.

Professional Development

Professional development is essential to keep abreast of emerging knowledge and to improve the ability of school counselors to help all students achieve the intended results of the school and district. Thoughtful, well-designed professional development will be provided to school counselors through a combination of district, site-based, and outside provider opportunities. During the Annual Agreement meeting the administrator and school counselor will discuss professional development needs and opportunities.

3.11 School counseling departments at each site will communicate by systematically providing information to staff, families, and community regarding the school counseling program and activities, services, and support options available to students.

Communication Through Staff and Community Relations

Communicating with staff, parents/guardians, businesses, civic organizations, and social services to share the programs, activities, and outcomes ensures school counselors are communicating about the needs of all students.

D. SCHOOL COUNSELOR ROLES / POSITION STATEMENTS

The Cabot Public Schools School Counseling Program agrees to utilize the Position Statements of the American School Counselor Association (ASCA) as guidelines in recommending the following roles for school counselors.

Discipline

The school counselor’s role in discipline is to provide a comprehensive program that includes systems of prevention and intervention as well as post-suspension follow-up. A comprehensive example is provided in the Appendix.

504’s and IEP’s

The school counselor’s role is to serve as an expert team member at meetings, providing consultation, support, and assistance developing students’ intervention plans. School counselors are encouraged to become well educated regarding their appropriate role when attending these meetings.

School counselors should not serve as the decision makers or in a supervisory capacity. Instead, school counselors have a responsibility to be a part of designing portions of these plans that relate to the comprehensive school counseling program. It is inappropriate for the professional school counselor to serve in supervisory or administrative roles such as:

- Making decisions regarding placement or retention
- Serving in any supervisory capacity related to the implementation of IDEA
- Serving as the LEA representative for the team writing the IEP
- Coordinating the 504 planning team
- Supervising of the implementation of the 504 plan (Hatch, 2014; p. 217; ASCA, 2010a, p. 47)

Role in Master Schedule

School counselors are vital to the master schedule process and serve as important participants on the schedule team. Master schedule building is most appropriately led by the school administrator, thus ensuring that decisions are made by the individual with the appropriate authority to lead this collaborative work. See The Use of Data in School Counseling, page 219 (Hatch, 2013) for references regarding the counselor’s role. Working collaboratively, the central office, site administrators, counselors, and classified personnel developed a list of master schedule building responsibilities (see Appendix).

Appropriate and Inappropriate Activities

School counselors and administrators should collaboratively review recommendations for School Counseling and Non-School Counseling Activities. Every effort should be made to create a collaborative plan to discontinue the performance of non-school counseling activities by school counselors in support of performing the appropriate responsibilities indicated in these guidelines.

In addition, school counselors are encouraged to collaborate with their administrator to create a list of appropriate work responsibilities for clerks, secretaries, and other non-credentialed staff who support and assist the school counseling program.

Appropriate Duties	Inappropriate Duties
Individual student academic program planning	Coordinating paperwork and data entry of all new students
Interpreting cognitive, aptitude, and achievement tests	Coordinating cognitive, aptitude, and achievement testing programs
Providing counseling to students who are tardy or absent	Signing excuses for students who are tardy or absent
Providing counseling to students who have disciplinary problems	Performing disciplinary actions or assigning discipline consequences
Providing counseling to students as to appropriate school dress	Sending home students who are not appropriately dressed
Collaborating with teachers to present school counseling core curriculum lessons	Teaching classes when teachers are absent
Analyzing grade-point averages in relationship to achievement	Computing grade-point averages
Interpreting student records	Maintaining student records
Providing teachers with suggestions for effective classroom management	Supervising classrooms or common areas
Ensuring student records are maintained as per state and federal regulations	Keeping clerical records
Helping the school principal identify and resolve student issues, needs, and problems	Assisting with duties in the principal's office
Providing individual and small-group counseling services to students	Providing therapy or long-term counseling in schools to address psychological disorders
Advocating for students at individual education	Coordinating school-wide individual education

plan meetings, student study teams and school attendance review boards	plans, student study teams and school attendance review boards
Analyzing disaggregated data	Serving as a data entry clerk

(ASCA, 2012, p 45).

IV. ACCOUNTABILITY

OVERVIEW

The fourth component of the comprehensive school counseling program calls for accountability to the program, the school counselor, and to the students and community served. School counselors collect and analyze school and school counseling program data to determine how students are different as a result. School counselors will use data to show the contributions of the school counseling program to student attendance, behavior, and achievement. School counselors analyze program assessments to guide future action and improve results for all students. The performance of the school counselor is evaluated on basic standards of practice expected of school counselors implementing a comprehensive school counseling program.

A. DATA REVIEW AND PROGRAM RESULTS

- 4.1 To demonstrate the impact and effectiveness of the program, school counselors will analyze school and school counseling program data to determine how students are different as a result.

A school counseling program must answer the question, “How are students different as a result of the school counseling program?” School counseling programs will collect and use data that links school counseling program activities to competency attainment and student outcomes. This component focuses on data analysis, program results, evaluation, and improvement. Sample results reports are located in the Appendix.

Measuring results is vital to the school counseling program for several important reasons:

1. Professional and program evaluation: What works? What doesn't?
2. Professional and program improvement: How do we improve?
3. Program advocacy: Ensuring program sustainability
4. Student advocacy: Promoting equity and access
5. Systemic change: Promoting improved policies, practices, and procedures

B. SCHOOL COUNSELOR PERFORMANCE EVALUATION

- 4.2 An appropriate school counselor evaluation tool will be developed in collaboration with the counseling department that reflects the duties and responsibilities expected of school counselors, as defined by the ASCA National Model, ASCA Professional Standards and Competencies, ASCA Ethical Guidelines, and the Cabot Public Schools Counseling Plan.

School Counselor Self-Appraisal and Evaluation

School counselors should be evaluated on their performance as a school counselor. Arkansas has a specific School Counselor Rubric within TESS (Teacher Excellence Support System) for administrators to use in counselor evaluations. The Cabot School District should use this and can explore additional instruments that reflect the job performance of school counselors. A sample is provided as a self-assessment in the Appendix.

School counselors may utilize the appraisal document for self- assessment, to set personal goals, and to drive professional development. It is recommended that school counselors complete a self-appraisal annually to determine needed areas of growth.

C. SCHOOL COUNSELING PROGRAM REVIEW

4.3 School counselors will meet at least once a year to review site school counseling program handbook and site school counseling program activities.

The program review is used to assess the school counseling program in comparison with ASCA's National Model for School Counseling Programs. Reviews are first performed when a school counseling program is being designed and then yearly to appraise the progress of the program development. Using the findings of both program implementation and results, strengths and areas of improvement are determined, and goals are created for the following school year.

D. SOCIAL JUSTICE (LEADERSHIP, ADVOCACY, & SYSTEMIC CHANGE)

4.4 School counselors serve as leaders in the school community to promote and support student success and act as systems change agents to create an environment that promotes and supports student success.

ASCA's school counselors' ethical guidelines include the following:

A.3.b. Provide students with a comprehensive school counseling program that ensures equitable academic, career and social/ emotional development opportunities for all students. (ASCA, 2016)

A.4.c. Identify gaps in college and career access and the implications of such data for addressing both intentional and unintentional biases related to college and career counseling. (ASCA, 2016)

A.13.i. Conduct school counseling program evaluations to determine the effectiveness of activities supporting students' academic, career and social/emotional development through accountability measures, especially examining efforts to close information, opportunity and attainment gaps. (ASCA, 2016)

B.2.d. Provide leadership to create systemic change to enhance the school. (ASCA, 2016)

As trained leaders who are skilled at counseling, advocacy, team building and collaboration, school counselors use data to promote the success of all students. As an outcome, school counselors seek to ensure all students receive equitable access to services, interventions, and academic opportunities. By taking the lead to collect and analyze school and/or district level data, school counselors identify existing gaps in student achievement. Implemented strategies and supports not only address existing gaps in achievement, but advocate for necessary systemic change.

ASCA Mindsets & Behaviors for Student Success:

K-12 College- and Career-Readiness Standards for Every Student

The ASCA Mindsets & Behaviors for Student Success: K-12 College- and Career Readiness for Every Student describe the knowledge, skills and attitudes students need to achieve academic success, college and career readiness and social/emotional development. The standards are based on a survey of research and best practices in student achievement from a wide array of educational standards and efforts. These standards are the next generation of the ASCA National Standards for Students, which were first published in 1997.

The 35 mindset and behavior standards identify and prioritize the specific attitudes, knowledge and skills students should be able to demonstrate as a result of a school counseling program. School counselors use the standards to assess student growth and development, guide the development of strategies and activities and create a program that helps students achieve their high-potential. The ASCA Mindsets & Behaviors can be aligned with initiatives at the district, state and national to reflect the district's local priorities.

To operationalize the standards, school counselors select competencies that align with the specific standards and become the foundation for classroom lessons, small groups and activities addressing student developmental needs. The competencies directly reflect the vision, mission and goals of the comprehensive school counseling program and align with the school's academic mission.

Research-Based Standards

The ASCA Mindsets & Behaviors are based on a review of research and college- and career-readiness documents created by a variety of organizations that have identified strategies making an impact on student achievement and academic performance. The ASCA Mindsets & Behaviors are organized based on the framework of noncognitive factors presented in the critical literature review "Teaching Adolescents to Become Learners" conducted by the University of Chicago Consortium on Chicago School Research (2012).

This literature review recognizes that content knowledge and academic skills are only part of the equation for student success. "School performance is a complex phenomenon, shaped by a wide variety of factors intrinsic to students and the external environment" (University of Chicago, 2012, p. 2). The ASCA Mindsets & Behaviors are based on the evidence of the importance of these factors.

September 2014

Organization of the ASCA Mindsets & Behaviors

The ASCA Mindsets & Behaviors are organized by domains, standards arranged within categories and subcategories and grade-level competencies. Each is described below.

Domains

The ASCA Mindsets & Behaviors are organized in three broad domains: academic, career and social/emotional development. These domains promote mindsets and behaviors that enhance the learning process and create a culture of college and career readiness for all students. The definitions of each domain are as follows:

Academic Development – Standards guiding school counseling programs to implement strategies and activities to support and maximize each student's ability to learn.

Career Development – Standards guiding school counseling programs to help students 1) understand the connection between school and the world of work and 2) plan for and make a successful transition from school to postsecondary education and/or the world of work and from job to job across the life span.

Social/Emotional Development – Standards guiding school counseling programs to help students manage emotions and learn and apply interpersonal skills.

Standards

All 35 standards can be applied to any of the three domains, and the school counselor selects a domain and standard based on the needs of the school, classroom, small group or individual. The standards are arranged within categories and subcategories based on five general categories of noncognitive factors related to academic performance as identified in the 2012 literature review published by the University of Chicago Consortium on Chicago School Research. These categories synthesize the "vast array of research literature" (p. 8) on noncognitive factors including persistence, resilience, grit, goal-setting, help-seeking, cooperation, conscientiousness, self-efficacy, self-regulation, self-control, self-discipline, motivation, mindsets, effort, work habits, organization, homework completion, learning strategies and study skills, among others.

Category 1: Mindset Standards – Includes standards related to the psycho-social attitudes or beliefs students have about themselves in relation to academic work. These make up the students' belief system as exhibited in behaviors.

Category 2: Behavior Standards – These standards include behaviors commonly associated with being a successful student. These behaviors are visible, outward signs that a student is engaged and putting forth effort to learn. The behaviors are grouped into three subcategories.

a. Learning Strategies: Processes and tactics students employ to aid in the cognitive work of thinking, remembering or learning.

b. Self-management Skills: Continued focus on a goal despite obstacles (grit or persistence) and avoidance of distractions or temptations to prioritize higher pursuits over lower pleasures (delayed gratification, self-discipline, self-control).

c. Social Skills: Acceptable behaviors that improve social interactions, such as those between peers or between students and adults.

The ASCA Mindsets & Behaviors for Student Success: K-12 College- and Career-Readiness Standards for Every Student

Each of the following standards can be applied to the academic, career and social/emotional domains.

Belief in using abilities to their fullest to achieve high-quality results and outcomes 6. Positive attitude toward work and learning

10. Participate in enrichment and extracurricular activities	10. Demonstrate ability to manage transitions and ability to adapt to changing situations and responsibilities

Grade-Level Competencies

Grade-level competencies are specific, measurable expectations that students attain as they make progress toward the standards. As the school counseling program's vision, mission and program goals are aligned with the school's academic mission, school counseling standards and competencies are also aligned with academic content standards at the state and district level.

ASCA Mindsets & Behaviors align with specific standards from the Common Core State Standards through connections at the competency level. This alignment allows school counselors the opportunity to help students meet these college- and career-readiness standards in collaboration with academic content taught in core areas in the classroom. It also helps school counselors directly align with academic instruction when providing individual and small-group counseling by focusing on standards and competencies addressing a student's developmental needs. School counselors working in states that have not adopted the Common Core State Standards are encouraged to align competencies with their state's academic standards and can use the competencies from the ASCA Mindsets & Behaviors as examples of alignment.

ASCA Mindsets & Behaviors Database

The grade-level competencies are housed in the ASCA Mindsets & Behaviors database at www.schoolcounselor.org/studentcompetencies. School counselors can search the database by keyword to quickly and easily identify competencies that will meet student developmental needs and align with academic content as appropriate. The database also allows school counselors to contribute to the competencies by sharing other ways to meet or align with a specific standard.

ASCA School Counselor Competencies

The ASCA School Counselor Competencies outline the knowledge, abilities, skills and attitudes that ensure school counselors are equipped to meet the rigorous demands of the profession and the needs of pre-K–12 students. These competencies help ensure new and experienced school counselors are equipped to establish, maintain and enhance a comprehensive school counseling program addressing academic achievement, career planning and personal/social development.

Organized around and consistent with “The ASCA National Model: A Framework for School Counseling Programs (Third Edition),” the competencies can be used in a variety of ways including:

School counselors

- Self-assess their own competencies
- Formulate an appropriate professional development plan

School administrators

- Guide the recruitment and selection of competent school counselors
- Develop or inform meaningful school counselor performance evaluation

School counselor education programs

- Establish benchmarks for ensuring school education students graduate with the knowledge, skills and attitudes needed for developing comprehensive school counseling programs.

I. SCHOOL COUNSELING PROGRAMS

School counselors should possess the knowledge, abilities, skills and attitudes necessary to plan, organize, implement and evaluate a comprehensive, developmental, results-based school counseling program that aligns with the ASCA National Model.

I-A: Knowledge

ASCA’s position statement, The Professional School Counselor and School Counseling Preparation Programs, states that school counselors should articulate and demonstrate an understanding of:

- I-A-1. The organizational structure and governance of the American educational system as well as cultural, political and social influences on current educational practices
- I-A-2. The organizational structure and components of an effective school counseling program that aligns with the ASCA National Model
- I-A-3. Barriers to student learning and use of advocacy and data-driven school counseling practices to close the achievement/opportunity gap

Revised, 2012

ASCA Ethical Standards for School Counselors

(Adopted 1984; revised 1992, 1998, 2004 and 2010, 2016)

Preamble

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) is a professional organization supporting school counselors, school counseling students/interns, school counseling program directors/supervisors and school counselor educators. School counselors have unique qualifications and skills to address preK–12 students' academic, career and social/emotional development needs. These standards are the ethical responsibility of all school counseling professionals.

School counselors are advocates, leaders, collaborators and consultants who create systemic change by providing equitable educational access and success by connecting their school counseling programs to the district's mission and improvement plans. School counselors demonstrate their belief that all students have the ability to learn by advocating for an education system that provides optimal learning environments for all students.

All students have the right to:

- Be respected, be treated with dignity and have access to a comprehensive school counseling program that advocates for and affirms all students from diverse populations including but not limited to: ethnic/racial identity, nationality, age, social class, economic status, abilities/disabilities, language, immigration status, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity/expression, family type, religious/spiritual identity, emancipated minors, wards of the state, homeless youth and incarcerated youth. School counselors as social-justice advocates support students from all backgrounds and circumstances and consult when their competence level requires additional support.
- Receive the information and support needed to move toward self-determination, self-development and affirmation within one's group identities. Special care is given to improve overall educational outcomes for students who have been historically underserved in educational services.
- Receive critical, timely information on college, career and postsecondary options and understand the full magnitude and meaning of how college and career readiness can have an impact on their educational choices and future opportunities.
- Privacy that should be honored to the greatest extent possible, while balancing other competing interests (e.g., best interests of students, safety of others, parental rights) and adhering to laws, policies and ethical standards pertaining to confidentiality and disclosure in the school setting.
- A safe school environment promoting autonomy and justice and free from abuse, bullying, harassment and other forms of violence.

PURPOSE

In this document, ASCA specifies the obligation to the principles of ethical behavior necessary to maintain the high standards of integrity, leadership and professionalism. The ASCA Ethical Standards for School Counselors were developed in consultation with state school counseling associations, school counselor educators, school counseling state and district leaders and school counselors across the nation to clarify the norms, values and beliefs of the profession.

The purpose of this document is to:

- Serve as a guide for the ethical practices of all school counselors, supervisors/directors of school counseling programs and school counselor educators regardless of level, area, population served or membership in this professional association.
- Provide support and direction for self-assessment, peer consultation and evaluations regarding school counselors' responsibilities to students, parents/guardians, colleagues and professional associates, schools district employees, communities and the school counseling profession.
- Inform all stakeholders, including students, parents/guardians, teachers, administrators, community members and courts of justice of best ethical practices, values and expected behaviors of the school counseling professional.

A. RESPONSIBILITY TO STUDENTS

A.1. Supporting Student Development

School counselors:

- a. Have a primary obligation to the students, who are to be treated with dignity and respect as unique individuals.
- b. Aim to provide counseling to students in a brief context and support students and families/guardians in obtaining outside services if the student needs long-term clinical counseling.
- c. Do not diagnose but remain acutely aware of how a student's diagnosis can potentially affect the student's academic success.
- d. Acknowledge the vital role of parents/guardians and families.
- e. Are concerned with students' academic, career and social/emotional needs and encourage each student's maximum development.
- f. Respect students' and families' values, beliefs, sexual orientation, gender identification/expression and cultural background and exercise great care to avoid imposing personal beliefs or values rooted in one's religion, culture or ethnicity.

ASCA National Model

A Framework For School Counseling Programs

Executive Summary

School counselors design and deliver comprehensive school counseling programs that promote student achievement. These programs are comprehensive in scope, preventive in design and developmental in nature. “The ASCA National Model: A Framework for School Counseling Programs” outlines the components of a comprehensive school counseling program. The ASCA National Model brings school counselors together with one vision and one voice, which creates unity and focus toward improving student achievement.

A comprehensive school counseling program is an integral component of the school’s academic mission. Comprehensive school counseling programs, driven by student data and based on standards in academic, career and personal/social development, promote and enhance the learning process for all students. The ASCA National Model:

- ensures equitable access to a rigorous education for all students
- identifies the knowledge and skills all students will acquire as a result of the K-12 comprehensive school counseling program
- is delivered to all students in a systematic fashion

- is based on data-driven decision making
- is provided by a state-credentialed school counselor

Effective school counseling programs are a collaborative effort between the school counselor, parents and other educators to create an environment that promotes student achievement. Staff and school counselors value and respond to the diversity and individual differences in our societies and communities. Comprehensive school counseling programs ensure equitable access to opportunities and rigorous curriculum for all students to participate fully in the educational process.

School counselors focus their skills, time and energy on direct and indirect services to students. To achieve maximum program effectiveness, the American School Counselor Association recommends a school counselor to student ratio of 1:250 and that school counselors spend 80 percent or more of their time in direct and indirect services to students. School counselors participate as members of the educational team and use the skills of leadership, advocacy and collaboration to promote systemic change as appropriate. The framework of a comprehensive school counseling program consists of four components: foundation, management, delivery and accountability.

FOUNDATION

School counselors create comprehensive school counseling programs that focus on student outcomes, teach student competencies and are delivered with identified professional competencies.

Program Focus: To establish program focus, school counselors identify personal beliefs that address how all students benefit from the school counseling program. Building on these beliefs, school counselors create a vision statement defining what the future will look like in terms of student outcomes. In addition, school counselors create a mission statement aligned with their school's mission and develop program goals defining how the vision and mission will be measured.

Student Competencies: Enhancing the learning process for all students, the ASCA Mindsets & Behaviors for Student Success: K-12 College- and Career-Readiness for Every Student guide the development of effective school counseling programs around three domains: academic, career and social/emotional development. School counselors also consider how other student standards important to state and district initiatives complement and inform their school counseling program.

Professional Competencies: The ASCA School Counselor Competencies outline the knowledge, attitudes and skills that ensure school counselors are equipped to meet the rigorous demands of the profession. The ASCA Ethical Standards for School Counselors specify the principles of ethical behavior necessary to maintain the highest standard of integrity, leadership and professionalism. They guide school counselors' decision-making and help to standardize professional practice to protect both students and school counselors.

MANAGEMENT

School counselors incorporate organizational assessments and tools that are concrete, clearly delineated and reflective of the school's needs. Assessments and tools include:

- School counselor competency and school counseling program assessments to self-evaluate areas of strength and improvement for individual skills and program activities
- Use-of-time assessment to determine the amount of time spent toward the recommended 80 percent or more of the school counselor's time to direct and indirect services with students

- Annual agreements developed with and approved by administrators at the beginning of the school year addressing how the school counseling program is organized and what goals will be accomplished
- Advisory councils made up of students, parents, teachers, school counselors, administrators and community members to review and make recommendations about school counseling program activities and results
- Use of data to measure the results of the program as well as to promote systemic change within the school system so every student graduates college- and career-ready
- Curriculum, small-group and closing-the-gap action plans including developmental, prevention and intervention activities and services that measure the desired student competencies and the impact on achievement, behavior and attendance

DELIVERY

School counselors provide services to students, parents, school staff and the community in the following areas:

Direct Student Services

Direct services are in-person interactions between school counselors and students and include the following:

- School counseling core curriculum: This curriculum consists of structured lessons designed to help students attain the desired competencies and to provide all students with the knowledge, attitudes and skills appropriate for their developmental level. The school counseling core curriculum is delivered throughout the school's overall curriculum and is systematically presented by school counselors in collaboration with other professional educators in K-12 classroom and group activities.

- Individual student planning: School counselors coordinate ongoing systemic activities designed to assist students in establishing personal goals and developing future plans.
- Responsive services: Responsive services are activities designed to meet students' immediate needs and concerns. Responsive services may include counseling in individual or small-group settings or crisis response.

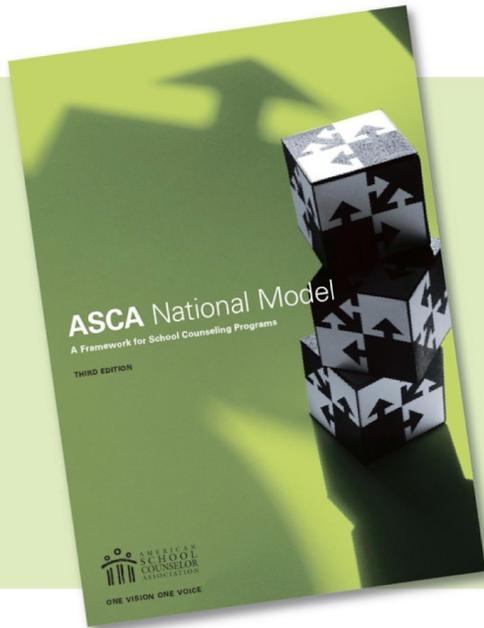

Indirect Student Services

Indirect services are provided on behalf of students as a result of the school counselors' interactions with others including referrals for additional assistance, consultation and collaboration with parents, teachers, other educators and community organizations.

ACCOUNTABILITY

To demonstrate the effectiveness of the school counseling program in measurable terms, school counselors analyze school and school counseling program data to determine how students are different as a result of the school counseling program. School counselors use data to show the impact of the school counseling program on student achievement, attendance and behavior and analyze school counseling program assessments to guide future action and improve future results for all students. The performance of the school counselor is evaluated on basic standards of practice expected of school counselors implementing a comprehensive school counseling program.

1. College Aspirations

Goal: Build a college-going culture based on early college awareness by nurturing in students the confidence to aspire to college and the resilience to overcome challenges along the way. Maintain high expectations by providing adequate support, building social capital and conveying the conviction that all students can succeed in college.

2. Academic Planning for College and Career Readiness

Goal: Advance students' planning, preparation, participation and performance in a rigorous academic program that connects to their college and career aspirations and goals.

3. Enrichment and Extracurricular Engagement

Goal: Ensure equitable exposure to a wide range of extracurricular and enrichment opportunities that build leadership, nurture talents and interests, and increase engagement with school.

4. College and Career Exploration and Selection Processes

Goal: Provide early and ongoing exposure to experiences and information necessary to make informed decisions when selecting a college or career that connects to academic preparation and future aspirations.

5. College and Career Assessments

Goal: Promote preparation, participation and performance in college and career assessments by all students.

6. College Affordability Planning

Goal: Provide students and families with comprehensive information about college costs, options for paying for college, and the financial aid and scholarship processes and eligibility requirements, so they are able to plan for and afford a college education.

7. College and Career Admission Processes

Goal: Ensure that students and families have an early and ongoing understanding of the college and career application and admission processes so they can find the postsecondary options that are the best fit with their aspirations and interests.

8. Transition from High School Graduation to College Enrollment

Goal: Connect students to school and community resources to help the students overcome barriers and ensure the successful transition from high school to college.
