Central's Report Card

D.E.S.E. publishes a report of the state's schools.

This online report provides information about each school, district, and state, including tests performance, teacher qualifications, retention, discipline, and much more. To access the website you can go to the following link.

<http://www.arkansased.gov>

Central's Report Card

- CE received a report card grade of C
- .42 from a grade of B
- 7.51 from a grade of A

Ways you can help us reach our goal!

- Attendance
- Tardies
- Support academics

www.arkansased.gov

D.E.S.E.'s website has information about Title I status, including the federal complaint resolution process.

Parents with disabilities have the right to ask for auxiliary aids and services to afford them the opportunity to participate in their child's education under Title I part A programs.

What does Title 1 Status Provide?

Money for:

- Materials and Supplies
- Parental Involvement
- Professional Development
- Technology Materials & Supplies

Parental Involvement Funds

The ADE adheres to two state mandated parental involvement laws which are to close the achievement gap and provide quality parental involvement activities.

Feedback and input on how parental involvement funds should be spent are always welcome and can be emailed to dawn.verkler@cps.k12.ar.us

School Compact

The school compact is sent home in the back to school folder each year. The purpose is to create a strong connection between home and school. It suggests ways for students, parents, and teachers to work towards your child's success for the school year.

Parental Involvement

Home

- Respond to school requests
- Provide a study space and time for homework
- Set high expectations for achievement

School

- Maintain communication between home and school

Community

- Support school policies and advocate for your school
- Take an active role in planning and governing education at the community level
